HOLLYWOOD ROOSEVELT HOTEL

- Place – California (Walk of Fame in Hollywood).
- It has a glamorous story:

Marilyn Monroe was the most famous resident of the hotel.

The Steiger brothers, authors and researchers of paranormal activity, were filming several productions at the hotel. Sherry (one of them) was explaining the story of the most famous place mirror, and while they were standing there, a gentleman pulled back as if he had pushed and said, ‘Who do you think you are?’. Brad asked the man what happened; and he said that the blonde lady came running as if it were the owner of Hollywood and made him aside.

BACHERLOR'S GROVE CEMETERY

- It is rumoured that this is one of the favourite places for gangsters to dump the dead bodies. Bacherlor's Grove is an old and decaying cemetery that has been the scene of countless stories of ghosts, spirits and devil worship. Several tombstones in the cemetery seem to move at will, and many claim that the spirits of the dead often materialize and walk at night.
- A white lady is a ghost that has been seen in this cemetery. Her legends are found around the world too.

ROBERT THE DOLL

The island art and historical museum is not haunted but contains shocking artifacts from the history of Key West in the form of a large doll that many claim is possessed. It was given to the painter Gene Otto in 1900, and he soon took a deadly fear of it, the young man said that the doll often threatened and woke him up at night, tossing the furniture. The child's parents swear that he saw the doll in motion, and neighbours often saw Robert in front of the windows when the family was out.
