CORTIJO JURADO (Málaga)

The Cortijo Jurado is a mansion that lies in ruins near Campanillas, Málaga.

The mansion was built in the 19th century by the influential Heredia family from Málaga. They were one of the most important families at that time.

THE HISTORY OF CORTIJO JURADO

The legend tells that the Heredia family, together with other rich families in the area, kidnapped young girls and subjected them to satanic rituals.

The bodies of their victims are said to be buried deep within the property. While it is true that many young girls did disappear during this period, nothing was ever proven to connect their disappearances to the Heredia family.
